

QUANTITATIVE ANALYSES OF MUTUAL FUNDS WITH SPECIAL FOCUS TO SYSTEMATIC INVESTMENT PLAN

JUWAIRIYA.P.P*, DR.K.P. VINOD KUMAR

*RESEARCH SCHOLAR,DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CENTRE OF RESEARCH, PSMO COLLEGE,TIRURANGADI

 RESEARCH GUIDE, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CENTRE OF RESEARCH, PSMO COLLEGE, TIRURANGADI.

ABSTRACT

Choosing a wise investing option is very necessary to minimize the risk and to maximize the return because a balance is required to be maintained between the risk and return. The objective of the paper was to evaluate the performance of selected mutual fund of various growth schemes on the basis of risk return frame work during the period of July 2011 to July 2017.growth schemes performance was satisfactory in the last five year period by analyzing risk and return aspects.

KEYWORDS: Risk; Return; Mutual fund.

References

Shivani Inder and Shikha Vohra (2012),”Mutual fund performance-An analysis of index funds, IJRCM, vol: 3, Issue: 9, pp:143-146

Methodology of research in social science-O.R.Krishna Swami

Research Methodology-C.K.Kothari

Sheshrao Maruti and Waghmare Shivaji (2013)”Performance evaluation of Mutual in India: A study with reference to selected private equity funds”, International journal of applied financial management perspectives, Vol: 2, No:3, July –Sept 2013,PP:590-594

Jyoti.M.Takkar (2014)”A scheme wise analysis of mutual funds in Gujarat (A comparative study of public and private sector)”, Department of Commerce, Hemchandracharya North Gujarat University, Patna, Gujarat, India

Nazia Ansari (2013), "An analytical study of functioning of mutual fund industry of India, Saurashtra University, Rajkot

Elango, R. (2004), "Which funds yields more return?", The management accountant, APRIL 2004, PP: 102-111

Systematic Investment Plan guide by ICICIDIRECT, June 30, 2009

www.amfiindia.com/mfkyc.aspx

www.mutualfundindia.com

www.moneycontrol.com