MISSING DAUGHTERS: THE DEVIL IN THE SOCIETY

DR. SHEVETA SEHGAL

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR
P. G DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE
A. S COLLEGE, KHANNA.

ABSTRACT

Female foeticide, the killing of female foetus, is the most heinous crime a person could even commit. Civilizations were built and civilizations were destroyed, but there is no ending to this silent murder. If it continues, definitely a time would come when we would witness a world without women. Women are the very source of our existence. The killing of women exists in various forms in societies the world over. There is an urgent need to take appropriate measures to empower the women in all spheres of life, so that there can be equality in decision-making, without any fear of pressure.

KEY WORDS: Female foeticide, killing, devil, society.

REFERENCES

Shalini Deurani (28 May 2008), A Focus on Female Foeticide in India, F://F://ff/a focus on female foeticide in india.htm.

Indu Grewal and J. Kishore (2009), Female Foeticide in India, file://F://ff/female foeticide in India international humanist and ethical union.htm.

Justcie Y.K. Sabarwal (17 December 2006), Eradication of Female Foeticide, Lecture delivered at Patiala.

N. Krishnaji, op. cit., p.1162.

Indu Grewal and J. Kishore, op. cit.

Amarty Sen (12 December 2006), “More than a 100 million Women are Missing”, http://www.catlog.ucsc.edu/gendersex100m.html.

S. Sureender (eds.), op. cit., p.106.

Shalini Deurani, op. cit.

Binita Tiwari (22 August 2007), Initiative Taken to Curb Female Foeticide, Lecture delivered in New Delhi.