ABSTRACT

Assam is the state which is very much known for the production of tea in all over the world. Assam tea contributes a major portion of the total tea exported by India. It is seen that the labours that play a major role in the tea sector development in Assam is always deprived from development. The socio-economic condition of the tea garden labours is very bad as compared to others. The socio-economic condition refers to the social and economic condition of the people. Various factors have influence on the socio economic condition of the people. The major factors influencing the socio-economic condition are educational qualification of the people, the income level of the people, savings and investment pattern of the people, housing and sanitation facilities of the people etc. In this paper factors like educational qualification, monthly income, consumer durables, housing, drinking water and sanitation facilities are taken into consideration to know the socio economic status of the tea garden labours of the Charaideo Purbot Tea Estate.

KEY WORDS: consumer durables, development, income, housing, labours, socio-economic, tea garden.
